

SAP EH&S Services

(M)SDS Authoring and Label Creation

ChemADVISOR staff is fully versed in the (M)SDS requirements for the regulated regions of the world. This knowledge can be harnessed to work within the customer's SAP EH&S system to create documents compliant with the major standards and regions of the world:

- European Union · United States · Canada · Japan · China · GHS · ISO · ANSI · and more ·

ChemADVISOR can create sample "templates" for different regions and product lines or we can produce all of the individual (M)SDS and label documents that are required.

Data Entry and Validation

ChemADVISOR can sift through regulatory, toxicological, ecotoxicological and other hazard information for new and/or existing products to determine what data should be entered into the substance information within SAP EH&S.

Data validation can include interaction with a regulatory data product, such as the LOLI database or the Micromedex ChemKnowledge product, or ChemADVISOR can evaluate customer specific studies and data.

Expert Rule Creation and Validation

As anyone working with regulations knows, acquiring data on substances is only one step in the regulatory compliance process. Creation of compliant documents requires logic in how this data is used and in how the information for different substances interacts in your product compositions.

ChemADVISOR can create or validate rules using native SAP or the EH&S Expert Rule Writer for several scenarios:

- EU substance and preparation classification (and subsequent generation of R&S phrases)
- Transportation classification for DOT, TDG, ADR, RID, IMDG, IATA and other UN-based regulations
- Hazard ratings and phrases for basic hazards such as acute toxicity, chronic toxicity, carcinogenicity, corrosivity, flammability and more
- Inventory status of product components
- Required component disclosure according to national confidentiality requirements

ChemADVISOR Experience

ChemADVISOR has been preparing (M)SDS documents and advising companies on regulatory requirements for 20 years. We have helped hundreds of companies in dozens of industries meet regulatory requirements around the world.

ChemADVISOR is a member of the SAP American User Group (ASUG). We have experience working within our own SAP EH&S system or within the system of our customers.

ChemADVISOR will perform work with sensitivity to the customer's confidentiality requirements. Work can be performed on-site or off. A non-disclosure agreement will be signed per the customer's request.
